

Saskatchewan Just Got Safer

On June 10, 200 business and community leaders representing 128 organizations endorsed their commitment to safety by signing Saskatchewan's first Health & Safety Leadership Charter.

Committed leaders are key to safety

On March 23, 2010, Gord Moker, CEO of Safe Saskatchewan, and Peter Federko, CEO of the Saskatchewan Workers' Compensation Board (WCB) on behalf of WorkSafe Saskatchewan, announced Saskatchewan's first Health & Safety Leadership Charter. Their goal was to have 100 signatories attend and pledge their commitment to safety as a core value.

On June 10, 2010, 128 organizations were represented, and 200 key Saskatchewan leaders attended this inaugural event. Safe Saskatchewan and WorkSafe Saskatchewan would like to thank everyone who made this event possible.

Through the efforts of these committed leaders, Saskatchewan will endeavour to become the safest province in which to work and play. These people have pledged to accept and encourage Mission: Zero one task at a time, and are striving to make Mission: Zero a reality for all workplaces and communities.
